

Structure

User Guide

The Structure App is used to organise complex processes into more manageable blocks that are easier to understand at a glance. All apps and groups within the Structure App group will be executed as normal. The Structure app can be renamed to help organise your process, and the entire group can be conveniently repositioned to another position in the process.

Tab: TQ Structure

There are currently no parameters in the structure app that can be configured.